A WORD OF POPE FRANCIS

"Salt is that element that gives taste and preserves foods from going bad. The disciple is therefore one who keeps dangers away from society, those corrupt germs that poison people's lives. It's about resisting moral laxity, giving witness to the values of honesty and fraternity, without falling into those modern traps of lust for power and riches. The disciple is 'salt' when, despite mistakes and failure – and we all have those – he or she gets up from the dust to look for ways to meet and engage with others. A disciple is 'salt' when he or she doesn't seek the approval or congratulations of others, but tries always to be a humble, constructive presence remaining faithful to the teaching of Jesus, who came not to be served, but to serve. And there is so much need today for this attitude"

(Angelus talk - Rome - Sunday, February 9)
